

The Missing from Home team will listen to you. We'll help you with things you want to get sorted out, but we won't tell you what to do.

Do you ever go missing from where you live?

Do people have to phone the police to find you? Or maybe they don't even bother to do that.

When you go missing do you ever find yourself in tricky situations?

If you get in touch with the Missing from Home team, we will:

- listen and take you seriously
- understand your needs
- help you with the things that are important to you
- not tell anyone anything unless you say it's ok, or we feel you are in danger
- always do something if we said we would
- help you decide what you need to do.

The Missing from Home team can help because:

- we can meet up with you where you feel most comfortable. That could be at home or school or somewhere else where you feel relaxed
- our workers will try their best to help you sort things out – whatever it is
- if we can't help you – we'll find the people who can and make sure they do.

The Children's Society

The Children's Society wants to create a society where children and young people are valued, respected and happy. We are committed to helping vulnerable and disadvantaged young people, including children in care and young runaways. We give a voice to disabled children, help young refugees to rebuild their lives and provide relief for young carers. Through our campaigns and research, we seek to influence policy and perceptions so that young people have a better chance in life.

Children are at the heart of all we do. That's why we want to build a better childhood – for every child.
